

An Abbreviated Timescale of History

A 7,000 year history of mankind during the Adamic age is confirmed by three witnesses:

- The seven-day weekly cycle, each day representing 1,000 years, the seventh day the rest of the millennium
- The seven-year Sabbatical year cycle, each year representing 1,000 years, the seventh year a Sabbatical year representing the millennial rest for the land
- The Jubilee year, each Jubilee cycle of 50 years giving 120 cycles for the 6,000 years of man's rule, and 20 more cycles for Christ's rule, a total of 140 Jubilee years for 7,000 years. Twelve means government perfection (3x4, the perfect spirit number x that which is material), while the number 14 is 7x2, 7 being spiritual perfection and 2 doubling that perfection. Fifty pictures deliverance and rest (7x7, spiritual perfection multiplied).

We do not have any detailed information about how the solar system formed ... only theories. Yet, it is possible that the sun and planets condensed from space matter over many years, according to physical laws that the Creator put into force, with the planets forming on the plane of the ecliptic, and at specific distances from the sun. The Titius-Bode Law predicts this spacing fairly well, though not perfectly. This law predicted the existence of another planet between Mars and Jupiter in what we now recognize as the asteroid belt. The law relates the mean distances of the planets from the sun to a simple mathematic progression of numbers.

Lucifer given charge over the earth and its civilization (Time?)

The mean distances of the planets is calculated beginning with a simple sequence of numbers: 0, 3, 6, 12, 24, 48, 96, 192, and 384. With the exception of the first two, the others are twice the value of the preceding number. The 4 is added to each number to give the sequence 4, 7, 10, 16, 28, 52, 100, 196, and 388. These numbers are divided by 10 to give 0.4, 0.7, 1.0, 1.6, 2.8, 5.2, 10.0, 19.6, and 38.8. This sequence is very close to the distribution of mean distances of the planets from the Sun.

Lucifer presumably was given charge over the civilization of the earth at the recreation in 4004 B.C. He was perfect in his ways, according to earth until evil was found in him, and he began to corrupt the perfect to accumulate wealth to himself. Once he chose this way, the limits to perversion in all aspects of no bounds, and the result was violence, war, family disintegration, theft, and the ecosystem deteriorated to the point that droughts, floods, and other natural disasters, which led to famine, disease, and death — unknown before Lucifer's sin — made life so miserable upon the earth that, in His mercy, the Eternal destroyed the earth with a flood similar to that of Noah's day. In this case, however, there is evidence of much greater deposition of sediments than at the time of Great Flood, indicating there were perhaps a great number of volcanic and cosmic alterations, including collisions with astral bodies, which deposited great amounts of dust and debris upon the earth.

The time period in which this all happened in unknown, but since history has a way of repeating itself it is conjectured that 6,000 years were involved, the same time allocated for mankind to live in the Adamic age. It is most interesting to note that as soon as Adam came on the scene in 4004 B.C., Lucifer — now Satan — did everything he could to overturn the plan of the Eternal and regain the rulership over the earth that he had lost not long before. This he succeeded in doing by influencing people through his evil spirit powers, by either possessing leaders or strongly controlling their attitudes and decisions. Thus, despotic leadership became the method of totalitarian states during the Adamic age, as it surely did within the pre-Adamic age.

Lucifer sins and the pre-Adamic Eden deteriorates (Time?)

earth, much like Adam was given charge over the ing to Scripture, and guided a beautiful civilization order on earth through "merchandising," or trading life, which he taught to the dwellers on earth, knew murder, and idolatry, similar to what occurred during the Adamic civilization. During this time there acted of many of the dinosaurs and other animals, were genetic manipulations of creatures of all types, bringing about the fierce character and the ecosystem deteriorated to the point that droughts, floods, and other natural disasters, which led to famine, disease, and death — unknown before Lucifer's sin — made life so miserable upon the earth that, in His mercy, the Eternal destroyed the earth with a flood similar to that of Noah's day. In this case, however, there is evidence of much greater deposition of sediments than at the time of Great Flood, indicating there were perhaps a great number of volcanic and cosmic alterations, including collisions with astral bodies, which deposited great amounts of dust and debris upon the earth.

Geologic Strata and the Time of Deposition

ERA	PERIOD	EPOCH

	PRECAMBRIAN

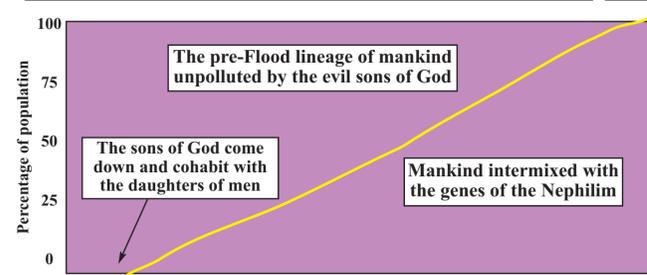

Cenozoic Era deposits are fairly recent, dating mostly from the time of the recreation of the earth before Adam up until the present time. These strata have thus been fairly recently laid down, during the past 6,000 years. They include fossils of mammoths, saber toothed tigers, horses, sloths, and many other organisms similar to today's flora and fauna, but oftentimes very large by comparison. Some of these creatures, like mammoths—some with grass still in their mouths—have been found intact buried in ice and permafrost in northern climes, indicating their rapid entrapment in ice from a rapidly precipitating water canopy near the poles, along with cascading water mixed with sediments during the Great Flood. Large bodies of water, like Lake Bonneville and Lake Agassiz, were present for a time during this period.

The Mesozoic Era is replete with dinosaurs, cephalopods, giant crocodiles, the archaeopteryx bird, and considerable flora, much of it gigantic in size compared to today's vegetation. These facts show that the atmosphere contained a much higher oxygen pressure than today, as well as optimum solar radiation and reduced gravitational pull. Large dinosaurs would be unable to rise off the ground under today's gravitation, nor would oxygen be able to permeate their tissues without higher air pressure from a water canopy. Giant homo sapiens also lived during this time, which is during the pre-Adamic eon when Lucifer reigned, as evidenced by human footprints directly in the tracks of dinosaurs. The fact that some dinosaur bones are being found that contain undecomposed tissue proves that the time these creatures lived could not have been too long ago, perhaps 6,000 to 12,000 years. The Cretaceous Extinction may well relate to the catastrophic events at the end of Lucifer's reign when a collision with asteroids or a near-miss from a rogue planet caused worldwide devastation and a great flood over all the earth, thus ushering in the waters covering the earth in Genesis 1:2. Deposits can be thousands of feet thick.

The Paleozoic Era is characterized oftentimes by deposits many thousands of feet thick, and fossils of giant plants and animals, much like in the Mesozoic sediments. In fact, one can discover any of these various layers from the Cretaceous to the Cambrian in various positions above or below one another in different parts of the world, showing that these deposits were laid down at about the same time, over a period of months or years but not millennia or millions of years. Dinosaurs, giant insects, fish like the coelacanth (found even in today's oceans), giant squid and rays, brachiopods, trilobites, crinoids, seeded plants, and various other vertebrates and invertebrates were common during this time. So has the occasional skeleton of homo sapiens been found in these strata, sometimes buried hundreds of feet below the surface and in solid rock, either sedimentary or quartz. Sometimes ancient artifacts like tools have been found at various depths in these strata.

Rocks found below the Cambrian layer in the Precambrian strata have no fossils, except for perhaps some evidences of algae, fungi, and bacteria that may have been involved in the preparation of the earth's atmosphere and soils for the habitation of plants, animals, and mankind. This rock may be best described as the parent rock from which the earth formed. The earth may have coalesced from matter in space over a long period time, perhaps millions of years, but we have no record of those events. It is possible that the Eternal Creator brought the planet to be in a rather rapid fashion, in a matter of years.

Pollution of the Pre-Flood Genetics of Mankind

Only one family was unpolluted by the genetics of the Nephilim: Adam → Seth → Enos → Cainan → Mahalaleel → Jared → Enoch → Methuselah → Lamech → Noah → Shem

Genetic purity is a major component of God's plan for mankind. This element of God's plan for mankind has its roots in epigenetics, wherein acquired traits can be passed on through alterations of compounds covering the DNA. Thus, Israel was forbidden to intermarry with the Canaanite nations, to avoid worshipping their false gods but also to not take on their evil behavior that had been inborn for many generations. Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob all arranged for their children to marry within the same family from Mesopotamia, and once the nation of Israel was well established each tribe was to marry within its own tribe; people from foreign nations could become a part of Israel, but had to fully amalgamate with God and His laws.

Satan and the evil sons of God attempted to pollute the genetics of the lineage of mankind by cohabiting with the daughters of the Adamic race, and succeeded in injecting Nephilim genes in all families but that of Noah. He and his family were saved in the Flood while all others were drowned. A similar irruption of the sons of God occurred after the Flood, leading to the giants which inhabited arts of Canaan when Israel was entering the land. These hybrids cannot inherit eternal life.

The Responsibilities Given to Jesus Christ On Earth

Our Lord and Savior did only what the Father commissioned Him to do while he lived as flesh and blood on the earth, and among these were the following:

- Heal the sick
- Cleanse the lepers
- Cast out demons
- Preach the good news of the Kingdom of God
- Destroy the works of the devil

These He did with unflinching determination, for He knew that the totality of the Father's plan to redeem mankind from sin and death rested upon His shoulders. He was not going to let down His Father, nor the multiple billions of people made in Elohim's image who would ultimately gain spirit, eternal life through His sacrifice.

What is so often misunderstood by professing Christians nowadays is an understanding of what Christ meant by the "Kingdom of God." He meant a literal world ruling government led by Himself and the saints, who would be reigning with Him as kings and priests on the earth, restoring to it the Eden that was lost when Adam sinned. He is to remove the rulership of Satan over the world's nations.
